MAMMOTH ENTERPRISE BY NEW YORK CITY IS FINALLY COMPLETED

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A drinking fountain which has cost $140,000,000 in money and eight years of labor will come into the possession of this city tomorrow. It extends from the Catskill mountains, 120 miles away, and is known as the Catskill aqueduct. In celebration of its official acceptance as a municipal system, which will supply water to millions of persons, a 3-day festival is planned which is expected to rival the Hudson-Fulton jubilation exercises here in 1909.

Because of the engineering problems which had to be overcome in enabling the city to draw water from the Ashokan dam, 610 feet above tide level, the construction of the system has been described as a feat surpassing in accomplishment the building of the Panama canal. It is one of the few great undertakings which have been completed both within contract time and without being attended by any labor disturbances.

A citizens' committee appointed by Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, with George McAneny as chairman, has arranged a program in which national, state and city persons of note will participate. George B. McClellan, former mayor and now president of economic history at Princeton university, will be the guest of honor. It was during his administration that the project was begun.

The labor organizations which supplied the workers and the board of water supply, which directed the task, together with leading civic bodies, will be represented. Charles Strauss, president of the board of water supply, will notify Mayor Mitchell of the completion of the aqueduct. Each night the city will be illuminated.

More than 25,000 public school children will take part in a pageant called "The Good Gift of Water." This will be held tomorrow afternoon in Central park.

The city has conducted an extensive campaign to acquaint children with the importance of the aqueduct. A million pamphlets have been distributed, and pictures connected with the construction of the system are on exhibit at the schools. Medals will be awarded to the two children in each school who submit the ablest compositions dealing with the importance of water and methods of obtaining it for the city.

The Catskill aqueduct creates four lakes in its course from the mountains to the city. It burrows under valleys, tunnels through high land, dives under rivers until it reaches a depth of 1,114 feet below sea level, and bores through the solid rock of Manhattan island. It is twice as long as the most famous water system of the days of Rome and is three times the length of the Panama canal. The aqueduct will be capable of delivering five billion gallons of water a day.

SISTERS SEWING SOLDIERS' SHIRTS

The domestic art department of the Tonopah public schools has entered with enthusiasm upon the work of sewing to assist the local chapter of the Red Cross. At the present time six girls of the eighth grade give their time to this work on Thursday forenoons and six high school girls take their places in the afternoons of the same day of each week. Mrs. Grace Moore is giving her time all day every Thursday of each week to superintending the work for the Red Cross chapter. Mrs. Moore is delighted with the manner in which the girls have taken hold of the work. The girls are equally enthusiastic and glad of this opportunity to "do their bit."

Because of the number of sewing machines, six girls at a time are about all that can work on the Red Cross sewing. However, after these twelve girls have learned just what is required, more girls will be given the opportunity to elect this line of work and other days will be assigned for the work. As the same thoroughness and attention to detail is required as in the regular work of the department, the same credit will be given as for the usual work. If it should become necessary to procure more sewing machines in order to accommodate a larger number of workers, no doubt the school authorities will see that the department does not lack equipment.

CAR SERVICE SUSPENDED.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PAUL, Oct. 11.—Street car service in the downtown district was suspended at 8:30 last night because of the activities of the strikers. Centering at the main line intersection point the strike sympathizers, who the police were unable to handle, effectively blocked traffic. During an attack upon a motorman, a man said to be a striker was shot through the leg by a detective.

GERMANS CLAIM ADVANTAGE.

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Repeated hostile attacks on a front of eight miles broke down with heaviest losses, army headquarters report. The German lines from Poelcapelle to South Gluevelt held firmly.

SORENSEN'S BOWLING ALLEY BURGLARIZED

REGISTER AND PUNCH BOARD YIELD A LITTLE INCOME FOR THE MIDNIGHT YEGGMAN.

Chris Sorenson closed his place of business, the Recreation bowling alley, on upper Main street, at 11:30 last night and upon reopening this morning he found that somebody had beat him to it.

The place was entered during the night from the Mineral street end of the building, by prying off a board and getting in through the furnace room. The burglars extracted $10 from the cash register, which had been left for change, and took six $2.50 gold pieces and some silver coins from the punch board. No arrests have yet been made by the police department.

COMPLETING ARRANGEMENTS.

(By Associated Press.)
DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 11.—Two or three more days will be needed to complete arrangements for the formal awarding of commissions to the approximately 625 successful candidates at the Fort Des Moines officers' training camp for negroes. It was said late today, Col. W. T. Johnston, detailed by the war department, will make the awards.

BABY MARIE OSBORNE.

The feature at the Butler this evening is "Twin Kiddies," another picture starring the little girl with the big drawing power, Baby Marie Osborne. There is no star today who appeals to young and old alike as this tiny one, as she is always in great demand. Baby Marie Osborne plays her first duel role in "Twin Kiddies." She has the part of a spoiled little girl brought up all wrong, and that of a sweet little girl brought up all right. The spoiled little girl has for her grandfather a hard-hearted old capitalist and the sweet little girl is the daughter of a mine foreman. There is a strike, and events so shape themselves that the Twin Kiddies get mixed. Their mixing incidentally is the thing that brings the strike to an end and makes the old grandfather kind-hearted after all. By an odd circumstance, the two children meet and in a prank they get into each other's homes and change their dresses. The respective households are amazed at their changed dispositions. The story works along with a sustained suspense and a happy climax. The story was specially written for Miss Osborne and gives her many opportunities, and she rises to their several requirements every time. She can be the naughty, spoiled little girl just as well as she can be the sweet and loving one. It is a picture that will be sure to please everyone who sees it. In addition to the feature a snappy comedy, "Lonesome Luke, Lawyer," will be shown.

Tomorrow, Annette Kellermann, in "The Daughter of the Gods."

on the Iga front in the North Russian fighting zone. Southeast of the Spital farm the Germans have violently bombarded Russian positions. In the middle sector of this front the duels have reached considerable proportions to the north of Lake Mladet.

Peace is impossible, according to a statement of the imperial German chancellor so long as Germany's antagonists demand German soil or try to separate the people from their emperor.

Bad weather is limiting activities in Flanders. The allies have maintained Tuesday's gains. The advance posts at the low sector of the British front below Poelcapelle have been drawn in a little. The entente guns are hitting off the German counters while the allies are consolidating and preparing for a renewal of their offensive. The French broke up a German attack last night east of Draet bank.

The German's new front line of defense's system in using shell holes instead of trenches proved a trap in the battle just ended. The Germans occupied a crater without any other shelter. They were deserted when found. The officers were in sheltered concrete dugouts farther to the rear. The prisoners seem in a terrible state of fatigue. It is declared that companies are reduced to forty and some to mere boys.

The men said they were well provided with food on the front lines, but the privations were great in the interior country. The French further advanced today, straightening out their line, despite the condition of the ground.

The persistence of the Germans to regain ground in the Verdun region is attracting attention. Recently a German military critic, speaking of the situation in Flanders, spoke of the peril which it might subject the Germans on the Verdun front if the German lines in the Belgian area gave way. The French fear that not occupied any of the territory annexed in recent years by reason that their race or nationality prevailed in these sections, but solely by reason of their military force. That has been the cause of the endless wars in the Balkans, for people are never satisfied when their race is ignored and they are attached to a foreign conqueror by force."

Professor Andreade, referring to the Balkan map, showed how the readjustment of Balkan boundaries, based on nationalities, would interpose two barriers to Germanic expansion toward Asia Minor and the Orient, one the Greek zone across Thrace and another the Serb-Rumanian link of territory which lies as a dam
